UNIVERSITY OF THE PACIFIC

Manufacturing Incentives for Stockton, California

> This summary is based on the student report Data-Driven Promotion of the City of Stockton for Manufacturing Investment by Felipe Cosio, Gursehajpal Singh, Leonardo Magana, Eric Cardenas, and Fatima Naeem, University of the Pacific. It lists programs the students identified in their research. All are public; please confirm current details with each official source. This is not tax, legal, or financial advice.

FEDERAL

- Build America, Buy America (BABA): requires U.S.-made iron, steel, manufactured products, and construction materials in federally funded infrastructure projects. energy.gov
- Advanced Manufacturing Production Credit (Section 45X): a per-unit tax credit for U.S.-made solar and battery components and inverters, phasing down after 2029. irs.gov

STATE OF CALIFORNIA

- California Competes Tax Credit: income tax credits for businesses that create jobs and invest in California. business.ca.gov
- Manufacturing partial sales tax exemption: lower sales tax on qualifying manufacturing and R&D equipment. cdtfa.ca.gov
- CAEATFA Sales Tax Exclusion: sales tax exclusion on equipment for advanced manufacturing and clean energy projects. treasurer.ca.gov/caeatfa
- Employment Training Panel: funding to train new and current workers. etp.ca.gov

REGIONAL AND UTILITY

- PG&E Economic Development Rate: discounted electricity rates for eligible new or expanding businesses. pge.com
- San Joaquin Valley Air District incentives: grants for cleaner equipment and vehicles. valleyair.org

SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY

- WorkNet On-the-Job Training: partial wage reimbursement while new hires are trained. sjcworknet.org
- Revolving Loan Fund: business loans on favorable terms. sjcworknet.org

CITY OF STOCKTON

- Development fee deferral and exemption programs: postpone or reduce certain development fees for eligible commercial and industrial projects. stocktonca.gov

PORT OF STOCKTON

- Foreign-Trade Zone No. 231: duties on imported materials can be deferred or reduced, improving cash flow for importers and exporters. portofstockton.com